What is "Generic Apples Game"?

Generic Apples Game is an online social card game simulator application that allows you and your friends to play social card games anywhere, anytime. With its minimalist design and quick response time, this app accommodates all your different web browsing enabled devices wherever you go.

How does Generic Apples Game play?

First, press the Create New Game button on the home screen. Also, take a mental note of the Join Game button.

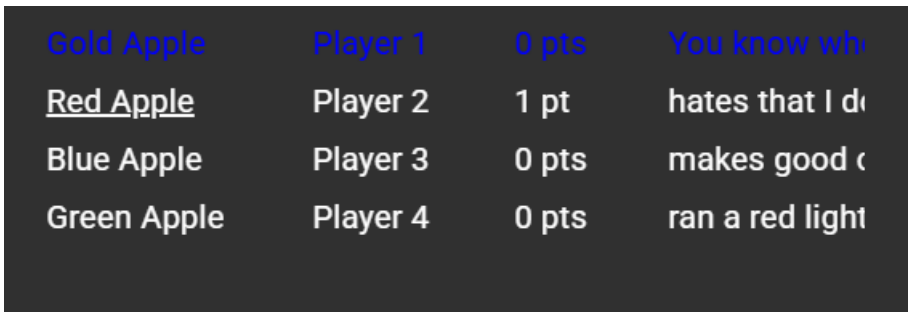
Upon generating the game, a lobby code will appear! You can click the icon with the two pages right next to the code to copy the lobby code. Also, feel free to adjust any of the game options in the Options section. After you're done configuring your game and sending your code out to friends, click the Start Game button to begin!

Now that you're in, you can either join as a new player, rejoin, or leave the game. As you're the host, enter in the username you'd like to use in the Join as a new player section.

Upon entering the username, as the first player who joins is the first judge, you're the judge. As your friends file in, enter a prompt in the Enter a prompt for current players section below. Once they all submit their answers, their responses will appear. Select between one by simply clicking on your favorite response.



Once you select a response, the player who submitted that response will receive a point. On the right side of their username, player number, and point count, the beginning of their last response will now display. Good job, Red Apple! Now, you know how to create a lobby and play a round in Generic Apples Game. Nice work!

Commonly Asked Questions

- How do I enter join or rejoin the game?

  From the title screen, insert the lobby code your host gave you into the box next to the Join Game button. Then, if you're joining as a new player, in the Join as new player section section, enter your user name and click submit. If you're rejoining as an existing player, in the Join as new player section, enter the player number of that user (located in the top right) and click submit.

- How do I leave the game?

  Once in the game, click the Leave Game button in the bottom right corner.

- What social card games work best for Generic Apples Game?

  Social card games that employ a round structure of submitting cards, one person judging the cards, and incrementing their score afterwards, like Cards Against Humanity and Apples to Apples, work best for this simulator. Other social card games, like UNO or Exploding Kittens, do not follow the template of this simulator, making them incompatible.
